Proceeds from the 2013 event will benefit Friends of the Italian Cultural Center of Boston (FICCB) as well as Italian language programs in Boston schools.

FICCB was founded in December 2012 with the aim of creating a Center of Italian Culture in Boston, and further, to ensure its management and operation. The Cultural Center will collaborate closely with the Consulate General of Italy in Boston, be open to all and will organize and host events, cultural exchanges, exhibitions, conferences, Italian language courses, film festivals, presentations of companies, cooking classes, fashion shows, and every initiative that will bring the community closer to Italy.

A portion of the proceeds will be donated to support the Boston Marathon victims and their families.
